Present Status of the Potomac Army.
A local article in the Washington Herald states that changes in the command of the Potomac Army, it may be well to give the following summary of the present and prospective organization as furnished by a reliable authority. Major-General Hallock assumes command of the Potomac Army, and will have the departments of Virginia, and the portions of North Carolina under his immediate command. The present headquarters of the Potomac Army, Major-General Hallock's headquarters, is at the Department of Virginia, Raleigh, N. C. He is expected to be ready on Military Duty in the latter part of the month of September to occupy the duties of the Commander of the Army of the Potomac. It is believed that the headquarters of the Army of the Potomac will be removed to Petersburg, Gen. Wolcott's office, the War, will be stationed on the north side of the city.

Cabinet Changes.
Our correspondent from Washington writes that the President has been expressing great dissatisfaction of impending Cabinet changes as premature. Gen. John Hartran has been removed from the position of Secretary of the Interior, and will be transferred to the post of the Mississippi and reconstruction in the Republic of the Interior during the coming year. Mr. Hartran will be replaced by Mr. Charles D. Walcott. The President is considering the removal of Mr. Hartran from the position of Secretary of the Interior, and will be replaced by Mr. Charles D. Walcott. The President is considering the removal of Mr. Hartran from the position of Secretary of the Interior, and will be replaced by Mr. Charles D. Walcott.

This image shows a page from a medieval manuscript, possibly a calendar or a liturgical book. The text is written in a dense, Gothic script, organized into columns. The parchment is aged and shows signs of wear, with some staining and discoloration. The right edge of the page shows the binding of the book. The text is written in dark ink on parchment, which has a slightly textured appearance. The layout includes large initials and headings, suggesting a structured format like a calendar or a list of events. The overall appearance is that of a well-preserved but clearly old document.
